

MARY ANN MEEHAN INTERVIEW

"Let's see...where was I? Oh, yes...working out! Believe me, housework was a chore then...no gadgets like vacuum cleaners and electric washers and such. It was the broom and the scrubbing board and your two fists! Everybody worked in a groove, too. Wash on Mondays, iron on Tuesday, mend on Wednesdays, Thursday and Friday house clean, and cook on Saturday. What a day that was! Pies and cookies and gingerbread and cakes and doughnuts and then everybody made their own bread. Goodness me, I had to set bread twice a week in that family and always had to make raised biscuits then."
